Permission To publish Pictures on the School's Website

Dear CVSR Parents,

The Channel View School For Research (CVSR) has a website where pictures are posted of their activities throughout the year. Since the students' activities are such important, we would like to include pictures from these activities on the website. In order to do so, we need your assistance. Below is a form giving the school CVSR permission to publish pictures of your child on the Internet website. We also invite you to visit www.CVSR.info to view news and updates about our school and our programs. In addition to our online programs, the calendar of events will provide up to date activities and information about our school.

Thank you for your consideration.
