What am I doing well? Learning to be accountable for my actions has taught me responsibility. I now understand that I can't blame other people for my mistakes in the real world and I continue to reflect on what I do wrong.

What do I need to improve upon? I need to improve on public speaking. I have found that its hard for me to maintain eye contact when talking to people. I also have trouble doing presentations because I don't like talking in front of large groups. If I can improve this skill set I will be better prepared for life.
